RELIEF MASS MEETING

GLENDAL RESPONDS LIBERALLY TO APPEAL FOR AID TO THE JEWISH SUFFERERS

Glendale responded nobly and liberally to the appeal made in behalf of the Jewish sufferers in Europe, at the mass meeting held in the Palace Grand theater, Sunday afternoon. A large and enthusiastic audience gathered to express their sympathy for the cause of the oppressed Israelites. The meeting was opened, by Mayor Lane, who was assisted in the plans of the afternoon by the committee on arrangements, Mrs. E. W. Kinney, the Rev. John Troy, Mr. S. H. Goldstein, Mr. A. T. Cowan and the Rev. W. E. Edmonds. Everything went smoothly as arranged. In addition to the speakers, Rabbi Isidore Myers, the Hon. Joseph Scott of Los Angeles, and Mr. J. A. St. Clair, there were on the platform the Rev. John Henry Troy, the Rev. E. H. Willisford, the Rev. R. W. Mottern, Mrs. Bartlett, president of the Tuesday Afternoon club, Mrs. A. Lowinsky, Mrs. William Herman West and Mrs. H. R. Boyer, who presided at the piano.

A large professional orchestra under the direction of Prof. A. Lowinsky opened the proceedings by playing the "War March of the Priests" from Mendelssohn's "Athaliae."

The mayor, Mr. O. A. Lane, who is acting as treasurer of the relief funds in Glendale, opened the meeting. He stated that the Rev. Julius Soper of Casa Verdugo and Mr. Mattison B. Jones were unable to attend and sent apologies with their wishes for the success of the meeting. He then placed in graphic manner before the audience the object of the meeting, which was to awaken the sympathies of the people of Glendale for the Jews in Europe, who were suffering in the theater of war. He told of the desperate condition of the helpless old men, women and children in the war region and urged that their desperate condition demanded immediate relief.

The Rev. John Troy stated that the committee had been in communication with Nathan Straus, the famous Jewish capitalist, who has done so much in conjunction with others of the American Jewish Committee, to relieve the destitution of the Jews in Palestine and in other parts of Europe, "during this trying period." He read a letter from Mr. Straus, in which he stated that though he had come to Long Beach for rest after the labors of the past season that he had been unable to find it, the needs of the sufferers being pressing and the demands on his time constant. He commended the object of the meeting and wished it success, and regretted that his other engagements prevented him from attending it.

Mr. St. Clair told of how much the world owed to the Jew; of the marvelous contribution of that nation to religion; how out of the four great teachers of the world—Buddha, Moses, Christ and Mohammed—two, Moses and Christ, were Jews. He told of the contributions of the Jews to literature, to music, to art, to statesmanship. Of the great Jewish premiers of Europe, including Benjamin D'Israeli, Lord Beaconsfield, the powerful rival of Gladstone and the man who purchased the Suez canal for Britain, of Sir Moses Montefiore, the greatest philanthropist of his age, and of others who in every country and in every profession had aided humanity. He told of the pitiable condition of the Jew in Eastern Prussia, in Galicia and in Russian Poland, through which lands the armies of Germany, Austria and Russia had marched and counter-marched and alternately had oppressed, robbed and murdered the Jews; driven them from their homes and cast them out destitute to die. He ended with an appeal for aid for the sufferers.

Rabbi Myers said that he would speak on war. To bring before his audience the horrors of warfare he recited with great dramatic force the following poem written by himself:

What Is War?
Conceived in passion, hatred, envy,
Born in the morning of antiquity,
War has a history whose pages drip
With the red blood of murdered innocence.
War is a sneering at the human race;
It makes the human race to stumble backward
Across the centuries into the jungle.
War stifles and deposes Reason,
Dethrones the beauty in the soul of man
And crowns instead the beast within his breast.
War's the collapse of God and the eclipse
Of Brother in the human breast and brain.

PLANTING THE TRUTH

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION OF GLENDALE-TROPICO DISTRICT TO SHOW METHODS

The Glendale-Tropico District Annual Sunday School convention and supper will be held at the First M. E. Church, Tropico, Feb. 18, afternoon and evening. The motto of this convention is "Every Boy and Girl For Christ." It holds as a cardinal principal that it is more important to plant a truth in the heart of a child than to plant a crop in the earth.

In the afternoon there will be a devotional ten minutes led by the Rev. Don S. Ford; the Rev. W. E. Edmonds will speak on "Evangelism"; then will come an open discussion. Music and an address on "Secondary Work," by Mrs. H. A. Dowling will lead to another open discussion. At 5 o'clock the business session will be opened; at 5:30 there will be divisional conferences, the adult presided over by Dr. H. A. Dowling and the elementary by Mrs. Lucy J. Bassford.

At 6 p. m. there will be an adjournment and a "Get Acquainted" session. Supper, at 25 cents a plate, will be served at 6:30, with the Rev. B. D. Snudden as toastmaster.

One-minute messages from each Sunday School superintendent in the district will be heard. The subject of these messages will be "The Best Thing in My Sunday School."

The evening session will be opened with a service of song. Devotional services at 8 p. m. will be followed by a "Dramatic Interpretation of Job," by Prof. W. H. Hear, professor of Expression in Alhambra High School. "Blest Be The Tie That Binds" will be sung and the benediction will be given by the Rev. E. H. Willisford.

There is no doubt that this will be an occasion of great benefit to those who attend. Many excellent ideas for the conduct of a Sunday School will be given and much may be learned from experienced teachers regarding methods.

Two preliminary institutes will be held. The first will be at Burbank Christian church, Tuesday evening, Feb. 15. The speaker will be the Rev. C. C. Seelman, pastor of Trinity M. E. church, Los Angeles. The second will be at Glendale, in the First Baptist church, Thursday evening, Feb. 17. The speaker will be the Rev. F. W. Farr.

As another principle the convention enunciates the great truth that "The launching of a boy or girl to live for Christ is a greater work than launching a battleship."

DR. CLEMENT SHAW LECTURES ON SCANDINAVIA COMPOSITIONS TO TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB

The meeting of the Music section of the Tuesday Afternoon club, which was held Friday, Feb. 11, at the home of the curator, Mrs. E. W. Kinney, was one of the most interesting that has been held this year. The section has been studying Scandinavian music for the last several meetings and this afternoon Mrs. Dora Gibson, instructor of music in the High School, arranged a most delightful and instructive program. The first number, a "Sonata in G Minor" in 3 movements, by Grieg, was most artistically played by Mr. Julius Kranz with Miss Melicent Virden at the piano.

Clement Burbank Shaw, A. M., Mus. D., D. Litt., was introduced by Dr. Willisford and spoke briefly of the drama of the opera in relation to its music, after which he read an interesting and instructive paper on the Literature and Music of the North (Scandinavia). Dr. Shaw sang in a rich basso voice an aria from "The Masked Ball" by Verdi and as an encore he sang an "Old English Drinking Song." Later he again favored the company with a selection from "The Magic Flute" by Mozart.

Mrs. Brahm Van Den Berg was introduced by Mrs. Kinney and sang in an exceedingly sweet and clear high soprano voice, which showed careful training, three songs by Grieg, "Summer Evening in Norway," "The Primrose" and "My Swan."

Mr. Kranz again charmed those present by his playing of the "Valse Triste" by Sibelius. Miss Virden in a truly artistic manner rendered one movement of Grieg's Sonata in D Minor for the piano and graciously responded to an encore. A rising vote of thanks and sincere appreciation was extended the splendid artists who so charmed every one.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Skinner of Alhambra, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Story, Jacksonville, Ill., are driving in and around Glendale, looking after opportunities along real estate lines. They are interested chiefly in acreage tracts.

NEW MUSICAL STAR

HOLMES BISHOP OF GLENDALE ACHIEVES REPUTATION IN COACHING AND CONCERT WORK

One of the leading music teachers and singers in the Los Angeles district is Holmes Bishop of 870 Damasco Court, Glendale, who came to the Los Angeles district some time ago, and took up the work of teaching, coaching and concert work. Mr. Holmes is a native of Orange, Cal., but left that city many years ago and went to the East to study his profession. He also lived and followed his profession for some time in Montana, where he was head of the voice department of the Montana State College, Bozeman, Montana.

Realizing that Los Angeles had become a musical center of great importance, Mr. Bishop determined to make that his headquarters. Like many other musicians of note he discovered that Glendale was a convenient residence on account of its climate and its easiness of access to the city. Up to this time he has not undertaken any work in Glendale itself, having his studio in Blanchard hall, Los Angeles. Now, owing to many requests having been made to him he has undertaken to receive pupils at his Glendale residence, 870 Damasco court.

Mr. Bishop brought with him the highest recommendations from musical authorities in the Montana educational institution with which he was connected until recently. They attest the high character of his work as a teacher, musical director and singer. His earlier musical studies were pursued in California, after which he went to Boston and entered the New England conservatory. In addition to his musical studies Mr. Bishop studied dramatic art. He graduated from the Conservatory in 1910 and supplemented this with a post-graduate course. Since that time he has studied with William L. Whitney, the famous New York and Boston teacher.

While in Boston he was soloist at the Temple Street M. E. church. He also sang at the North Avenue Baptist church in Cambridge.

During the four years of his incumbency of the position of principal of the voice department of Montana State College, Mr. Bishop was prominently identified with the musical interests of Bozeman. In addition he organized and directed a men's glee club and a woman's glee club of the college. This college had 200 musical students last year. He also directed the Bozeman Apollo club of 85 voices and was also director of the choir of the First Methodist church of that place. Last season the Apollo club presented, under his direction, Cowen's cantata, "The Rose Maiden," and Coleridge Taylor's "Hiawatha's Wedding Feast." He was also active in concert and solo work along with Mrs. Bishop, who is a singer with a sympathetic mezzo-soprano voice of large range and excellent training.

Mr. and Mrs. Bishop have been secured as singers before the Music section of the Tuesday Afternoon club, March 10, when the music lovers of Glendale will have an opportunity of hearing two artists of high quality.

ADVENTIST PICNIC

Glendale Seventh Day Adventist church school had their annual school picnic at the Arroyo Seco, Sunday. Through the courtesy of Mr. James Weaver of La Canada a team was furnished to haul the merry-makers from Montrose to the picnic grounds, where they spent a very pleasant day playing games and climbing the mountains. The picnickers returned to Glendale in the evening a tired but happy bunch, numbering about fifty. Those who assisted the teacher, Mr. Dart, were: Mrs. Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. Weaver, Miss Edna Reaser, Mrs. Albert Frank and Mrs. Dart, Miss Loleta Leadsworth.

WILLETT FOR CITY TRUSTEE

Frank J. Willett of 1010 Lomita avenue, announces in this issue of The Evening News that he is a candidate for the office of City Trustee. For six years Mr. Willett's business has called him over the various streets of the city, so he is well acquainted with Glendale's needs. Mr. Willett is a thoroughly trained mechanic of 20 years experience. He worked in U. S. Arsenal at Rock Island, Illinois, where he had charge of men. The aspirant for this office is a member of the Knights of Pythias, the Elks and for three years has been a member of the Chamber of Commerce. He feels thoroughly qualified to serve as city trustee.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Tuesday; north winds.

H. P. Coker, Chairman. After the report of the chairman in the appointment of committees was confirmed, Wilmot Parcher read a very interesting paper entitled "Reminiscences of Glendale," which was published in Saturday's issue of the Glendale Evening News.

Following Mr. Parcher's paper T. W. Watson, city manager of Glendale, by means of a well-prepared chart, explained the expense of keeping up the various departments of Glendale's municipal government. As these figures and explanations have been published from time to time in The Glendale Evening News and they may be found in the annual report recently published in book form by the city, we think it best not to reproduce them at this time. But to those not present allow us to say that Mr. Watson's explanation of what is done with the city's money was a very good one and was highly commended by members of the Chamber of Commerce present.

Being no other business the Chamber adjourned.

MONEY FOR JEWISH RELIEF

Those who contributed at the mass meeting in aid of the Jewish sufferers and have not yet paid their subscriptions are requested to send their contributions to Mr. Ed Lee, at the First National Bank, or to Mr. S. H. Goldstein, 717 W. Fifth street. The sooner the subscriptions are sent in the sooner will the relief be sent to the destitute Jews of Europe. Many are dying every day whom a little timely help might save.

AT LA RAMADA

Mrs. E. Tudor of Cincinnati, Ohio, was the honored guest at a beautifully appointed 6 o'clock dinner party given Saturday evening at La Ramada by Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Engelhorn of 908 Lomita avenue. Usilton, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Wilkison of Los Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kling, the latter a daughter of Mrs. Tudor. Following dinner the guests engaged in cards in the Engelhorn home.

WAR PROVISIONS IN GERMANY

It is narrated of Marie Antoinette, queen of France, that during the worst period of the famine in Paris that preceded the revolution she was told, "The people have no bread," and answered in amazement, "Why let them eat cake." That is very much the situation in Berlin just at present as far as the meat question is concerned in the American colony, with this difference that though meat cannot be had game can.

It is Ambassador Gerard, the American representative in Berlin, who has made it possible for the beleaguered Americans in Berlin to eat game, the luxury, while butcher's meat, the commonplace staple is impossible to obtain. The American ambassador, when it became apparent that he had to remain in Germany on account of the war and miss his annual vacation elsewhere rented a shooting lodge in the vicinity of Berlin. Game in Germany is well preserved. The laws are stringent in respect to the killing of deer, and other wild animals. That is sport for the "yunker" not for the "arbeiter." The socialist workman may get out and shoot Englishmen if he wants sport but the red deer is "tapu" to him. The aristocrat, however, who can pay for his sport can purchase or rent a game preserve. In this way Ambassador Gerard has been able to supply his own table and that of many in the American colony with many a haunch of venison, a toothsome wild duck, a gamey wild pheasant or a racy rabbit.

This has been a welcome addition to the tables of those Americans who are not over pleased with the black bread and other articles of consumption of a peculiar kind forced on them by the exigencies of war. Berlin has felt the pinch of hunger to a certain extent; but now that the grain stores of Bulgaria have been thrown open to her there is very little fear that the blockade of Britain can have any very serious effect on the nation. Inconvenienced the Germans will undoubtedly be; but they will not be starved out by the present perfunctory blockade that does not prevent food from the Scandinavian countries from entering the German ports.

ANTIMONY MINES IN CALIFORNIA

It would be impossible to imagine a more desolate prospect for human residence than the Panamint range, which lies not far from the Death Valley. Ever since California has been exploited by mining men this region has been considered a most promising neighborhood for prospects of all kinds. Some excellent gold mines have been discovered in the canyons of this mountainous country. The proof that they are good is to be found not in the assertions of their owners, but in the fact that there have been lawsuits over them. As they used to say in Alaska; "What sort of a claim have you got?" "Oh pretty good." "Have a lawsuit?" "No." "Then it can't be much good."

There have been lawsuits over the Panamint range property and its mines of different kinds have proved up well. The Panamint range recently came into prominence in connection with some antimony mines that were found there many years ago. The original prospectors were unable to handle the deposits because they were too far away from railroads. They were therefore glad to sell them for a consideration. They finally fell into the hands of the Western Metals company, a big concern with ample capital, that has an office center in Los Angeles. This concern is on the lookout for mines of all kinds and has acquired many out on the desert.

Up to the time that the railroad was constructed to Trona, the headquarters camp for the potash deposits at Searles lake, there was very little chance to do anything with those rich mines. The owners gophered out a few tons now and then and dragged the ore in sacks on burros over the sands to get a little money. Now, however, things are changed. The Trona railway comes within twenty-five miles of the mines and that is not a prohibitive distance.

The largest production has been made from deposits near Wild Rose spring on the northwest slope of Telescope Peak, in the Panamint range. The deposits contained considerable antimony ore as well as stibnite and were mined by the Western Metals company or a branch of that organization known as the Merchants' Finance company. The same company operated deposits thirty miles northwest of Mojave, within ten miles of the S. P. at Neuralia, in Kern county.

Other deposits were mined in California at many points in Kern county, in the eastern end of San Benito county, and on Moore's flat, near Grass valley. Prices at present are high; but there is no likelihood that they will remain so. There are immense deposits in Alaska, some of which are being worked at present. At Fairbanks in the very heart of the country there are deposits that yield 58 per cent antimony.

Near Nome, Alaska is one of the producing mines from which 132 tons was recently shipped; but it is known that that by no means represented all the production. There are immense deposits in China where labor is extremely cheap and this product is gradually coming into competition with the United States. The price is certain to fall. The war has sent it up from 11½ cents a pound to 40 cents. Fifty cents a pound has been paid for it last year. As soon as the war is over it will fall back to its original level.

DODGE BROTHERS SHOW MARVELOUS FIRST YEAR

Dodge Brothers, Detroit, have just completed their first year as manufacturers of motor cars and the record established is unique even in this amazing industry.

The first completed car rolled out of the plant in December, 1914, and actual shipments started in January, 1915. With the close of the first year, Dodge Brothers merely state that the public has "bought more than $35,000,000 worth" of their cars. Nothing is said of production plans for next year, but the announcement is made that the demand, which has always been ahead of production, remains unsatisfied.

The record made in the first year is the talk of motor car circles. Before beginning the manufacture of a car bearing their own name, Dodge Brothers were well known in the trade as large makers of automobile parts. But no one anticipated when it was announced that they would bring out a car that within a year they would jump among the first six companies in the country in the production of cars. But such is the fact and the career of Dodge Brothers is sure to be carefully watched by both the trade and public during 1916.

GLENDALE ATHLETIC CLUB

Considerable progress has been made in the popularizing of the Glendale Athletic club, which has grown greatly in the favor of the public since it was started some time ago. The club has been laboring under heavy handicaps. Not the least of these has been the lack of money. Notwithstanding this drawback, which hindered the hiring of any place wherein to practice and to hold the games, the club has showed itself a body of players of the first rank. Just at present they are climbing up in the league and if they manage to get a little more chance to practice should astonish the leaders of the game.

In order to make arrangements whereby the club may be afforded facilities for training and practice, a business meeting will be held Wednesday, Feb. 16, at the residence of Paul C. Hunt, 216 N. Maryland street. The subject of organization will be discussed and also that of providing a suitable home for the club. The members of the club are exceedingly thankful for the support and encouragement they have received up to this point from the public. They hope to get more support when the people realize the publicity that Glendale is getting out of the league games.

MONSTER FREE SHOW

A monster, free picture display will be given Saturday morning, Feb. 19, at the Palace Grand, at 10 o'clock sharp. This show has been arranged by the Glendale Garden society which, owing to the generosity of Mr. Jensen, manager of the Palace Grand, is enabled to put forward this great attraction. The Garden society invites every school child, every teacher, every mother, all the members of the Garden society, and everybody living within a radius of ten miles of Glendale, to attend this free picture show.

The Palace Grand seats 788. The president of the Garden society hopes to see a thousand people present. It will cost them nothing. This is a free show, arranged in order to entertain, instruct and enthuse all the residents of Glendale, Tropic, Burbank, Montrose, Little Lands, and all the neighboring communities.

Professor Schufeldt of Los Angeles will display over 100 pictures. Some of these he showed on Feb. 3, to the Garden society and friends at a large gathering at the High School, and the audience could have sat all night looking at them. In order to satisfy the demand for another similar display, to allow those who could not be present an opportunity for attending, and to give the many hundreds of school children and teachers a rare treat, the Garden society has managed to secure this great attraction for Saturday morning. Show begins at 10 o'clock sharp.

ST. VALENTINE BALL

Looking back over the society functions booked on this year's social calendar, Glendale has not known a more brilliant event than the well attended St. Valentine ball given last Friday evening at the Masonic hall by the young ladies of the Saint Margaret's Guild. Cascades of scarlet hearts and pepper greenery were used artistically in the ballroom, with palms and graceful ferns forming a pretty background for the handsomely gowned matrons and buds in attendance. The Merrill orchestra dispensed captivating music for the devotees of the terpsichorean diversion.

From a large table in the spacious hall where punch and bon bons of red and white were served, pierced hearts and dainty cupid saucily perched on the feathery garlands of fern formed a pretty decorative motif. Mesdames John T. Crampton, T. S. Provolt, Frank J. Willett, George Bannock, Chas. L. Peckham, C. H. Morse, as patronesses, assisted the hostesses of the evening, including Mrs. G. E. Heiman, Mrs. Clarence Peck, Mrs. James Luther Flint, Mrs. Arline Hallahan, Mrs. Frae Morse Wells and the Misses Irene G. The boys brought elaborate lunches, each boy bringing lunch for two. The following program which was followed out in the course of the evening furnished much amusement and merriment for the young people:

1. "Dear" Season. 2. Leap Year Special. 3. Cupid's Express. 4. Suffragette Domesticity. 5. Tragedy in One Act. 6. "Kisses." 7. "Love's Labor Lost."

CUPID AGAIN VICTOR

DICKENS AND HIS SCHOOLBOY SON

"Let me tell you that a week ago I took Charley and three of his school-fellows down the river gypsy-ing," Dickens says in a letter to the Hon. Mrs. Watson. "I secured the services of Charlie's godfather (an old friend of mine, and a noble fellow with boys) and went down to Slough, accompanied by two immense hampers from Fortnum and Mason.

"The boys, who had got up at four (we being due at 11), had horrible misgivings that we might not come, in consequence of which we saw them looking into the carriage before us, all face. They seemed to have no bodies whatever, but to be all face; their countenances lengthened to that surprising extent. When they saw, the faces shut up as if they were upon strong springs, and their waistcoats developed themselves in the usual places. When the first bumper came out of the luggage van I was conscious of their dancing behind the guard, when the second came out... they all stood wildly on one leg. We then got a couple of flies to drive to the boathouse. I put them in the first, but they couldn't sit still a moment, and were perpetually flying up and down like the toy figures in the sham snuff boxes. In this order we went on to 'Tom Brown's, the tailors', where they all dressed in aquatic costumes, and then to the boathouse, where they all cried in shrill chorus for 'Mahogany'—a gentleman so called by reason of his sunburnt complexion, a waterman by profession. (He was likewise called during the day 'Hog' and 'Hogany,' and seemed to be unconscious of any proper name whatsoever.) We embarked, the sun shining now, in a galley with a striped awning, which I had ordered for the purpose, and all rowing hard, went down the river."

NORTH GLENDAL E

With their attractive home beautifully decorated with white floral blossoms intermingled with asparagus prumosus, Mr. and Mr. Edward S. Lawrence of 1304 North Maryland avenue entertained with a dinner dance last Friday evening, the occasion being the fifth anniversary of their wedding day. The dining table was very lovely with dainty hand-painted china and cut glass, the centerpiece being an artistically arranged bouquet of white carnations and ferns and covers were marked for eight, the guests including Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Kneib of E. Second street, Glendale; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Coutts and Mr. and Mrs. E. Nichols of Los Angeles. In the evening the guests were added to by a number of Los Angeles friends, who motored out to enjoy the dancing party, which was indulged in until the wee, sma' hours.

Miss Elizabeth Terry of Los Angeles was the guest of her aunt, Mrs. W. A. Brown, of 913 San Rafael street, over the week end. Sunday evening Miss Florence Brown and Miss Terry attended the First M. E. Church in Los Angeles, where they heard Dr. Locke speak on Washington and Lincoln.

Mrs. E. R. Gregory of 1610 Stocker street has exchanged her property located above for a home in Los Angeles on South Hobart boulevard. Mr. Gilbert Tuttle of Los Angeles has acquired the North Glendale property and will in the near future move here with his family.

Mrs. Theo. B. Goossen of Los Angeles was the guest of her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Theo. B. Goossen, Jr., of 1645 Ruth street, over the week end.

Mr. Ludlow Robbins and George J. Schoenheir of Los Angeles, both extensive property owners in North Glendale, were here on business last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bitz of Burbank spent Sunday with the former's mother and sister, Mrs. J. Bitz and Mrs. E. P. Benfield of 1641 Ruth street.

Mr. J. A. Mead of 1648 Ruth street returned home Saturday morning from the northern part of the state, where he has been for several weeks in the interests of the oil business.

Mrs. Hal V. Caldwell of Los Angeles and her house guest, Miss Helen Felling of Ontario, Cal., were luncheon guests of the former's aunt, Mrs. A. B. Clement, of 1321 North Pacific avenue.

Mrs. Walter Parsonage of 829 Lincoln Place is quite ill with a severe bronchial cold.

Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Eckles of 1124 Viola avenue were among those from this community who attended the York County, Neb., celebration held at Whittier last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. George P. Dewey and little son Donald of Huntington Park spent Sunday in North Glendale, where they called upon former friends and neighbors.

FIRST M. E. BARACAS

What is expected to be a very pleasant social gathering will be given by the members of the First Methodist Episcopal church Baraca class, in the Epworth League room, at 8 p. m. All members and their friends are invited to be present. There will be a short program of an entertaining character and afterward a social hour and refreshments.

NEW FLYING RAFTS

The principal river in Columbia is the Magdalena. One thousand miles long, it rises in the Andes and flows northward through long, narrow valleys until it enters the Caribbean sea through two forks that separate at the city of Barranquilla. The river affords almost the only commercial route to the interior of Colombia, and a large number of regular steamers carry freight and passengers to and from inland points; in some seasons, however, the tributaries and the upper stretches of the Magdalena become so shallow that only boats of very light draft can navigate them, and it then takes many days to reach Honda and Neiva and other inland towns. Senor Gonzalo Mejia, who has a contract to carry the mails in Colombia, has designed a boat that, he believes, will be able to sail the Magdalena and its tributaries even when they contain less than a foot of water. This odd craft, which has a draft of only three inches, is propelled by two engines of 150 horsepower that drive two aeroplane propellers, and can travel at a rate of from 15 to 45 miles an hour. With this flying raft, Senor Mejia expects to make the trip up the Magdalena, which has sometimes taken 60 days, in 20 hours.

TROPICO

At the splendid reciprocity day program given by Glendale Tuesday club, under the able direction of Mrs. Wayland Brown, Tropic Thursday club was represented by Mrs. Willis H. Kimball and Miss Cora Hickman.

Mrs. Charles A. Barker, president of the Tropic Thursday club, accompanied by Miss Elsie Anderson, Mrs. Thomas A. Gaither, Mrs. Frank B. McKenney, Mrs. Hal H. Davenport, Mrs. J. Herbert Smith, Mrs. C. H. Woolsey, and Mrs. W. H. Kimball represented the Tropic club at the reciprocity day program given by the Woman's Twentieth Century club of Eagle Rock last Thursday afternoon.

Dr. Jason Morse, who resides with his sister, Mrs. Charles A. Barker, at 115 South Glendale avenue, left for Pontiac, Michigan, Thursday, in response to numerous telegrams urging Dr. Morse's return for consultation at the Michigan State Hospital, of which this eminent physician is assistant medical superintendent. Dr. Morse was for a number of years previous to coming to Tropic, medical superintendent of the Michigan State Hospital and this is the second trip that he has made to Michigan in the interests of this institution within the past year. Dr. Morse will remain East until late in the summer.

Mrs. Wayland Chapman entertained as her guests at the General Richard Gridley Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Mrs. D. H. Imler and Miss Cora Hickman, Wednesday afternoon, when Mrs. M. D. Chamberlin entertained the chapter at her charming home on Maple avenue. Mrs. Imler and Miss Hickman are members of Eschscholtzia chapter of Los Angeles.

One of the most delightful social events of next week's many society events will be the card party to be given at the beautiful new home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wallace Kimberly on South San Fernando boulevard, Friday evening, February 18.

AT "PALM VILLA"

Miss Marjorie Imler, winsome daughter of Mrs. D. H. Imler of the "Palm Villa" at 310 West Park avenue, Tropic, celebrated her birthday anniversary on Saturday afternoon, the exact date falling on the 14th inst. Surrounded by a coterie of sixteen intimate girl friends a wonderfully happy afternoon was spent at story telling, guessing contests, "Bunco" and dancing, including group snapshots of the assembled guests. Prizes were won by the Misses Evangeline Hunchberger, Mildred Wight, Mona Butler and Waunita Emery.

Spring blossoms in tall vases beautified the spacious rooms given over to the afternoon's pleasures. Conspicuous in the decorations was a large inverted Japanese parasol, from which hung red satin streamers; late in the afternoon the girls were allowed to select their streamer and found that at the end of each was tied a clever wee valentine in verse with a stick of mint candy.

At a late hour elaborate refreshments were served from small tables. The ice cream slices centered with a red heart, French pastries, heart shaped bon bons in lace baskets as place favors all bespoke of the St. Valentine season. The birthday cake cut by the "Valentine" hostess was a decidedly attractive piece of confection in white and pink.

Miss Marjorie was the recipient of many pretty gifts, among them being a silver friendship link bracelet bearing the initials of twelve girls.

Assisting the young hostess in dispensing gracious hospitality was Mrs. Imler, her mother and aunt, Miss Cora Hickman, to the Misses Catherine Phillips, Evangeline Hunchberger, Katherine Renshaw, Esther Schremp, Margaret Boucher, Ernestine Lyon, Mona Butler, Florence Heacock, Mildred Wright, Dorothy Hunt, Jeannette McLennan, Waunita Emery, Elizabeth Smith, Mary Wilkin, Ione Virden, Margaret Wight and Hilda Englehardt.

HONORING BRIDE-ELECT

Among the number of pleasant pre-nuptial affairs which are to be given in honor of Miss Blanche Lyons before her marriage to Mr. Ervin Balingier, was the miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. R. T. Lyons and Mrs. James A. Newton in the home of the former at 425 Cedar street, Saturday afternoon.

Enchantress carnations of pink and white with old fashioned pink phlox intermingled with dainty fern were lavishly used throughout the house, the same dainty color scheme being carried out in the buffet supper, served at five o'clock.

The gifts were cleverly presented to Miss Lyons. Hidden in a basket about which a silken American flag had been draped, and surmounted with a photo of Lincoln, was brought into the room by little Jean Lyons on a card decorated in pink.

Accepting the hospitality extended by Mrs. Lyons and Mrs. Newton were the bride-elect, Mrs. Ralph Wright, Mrs. N. Nyby, Mrs. C. D. Furst, Mrs. Waterman, Mrs. Frae Morse Wells, Mrs. Wm. Livingston, Mrs. Milton Newton, Mrs. Gus Pulliam, Mrs. R. G. Lyons, Mrs. R. U. Richless and Mrs. J. C. Danford, Miss Dorothy Lee, Miss Alice McCoy Miss Alma Turner, Miss Maybeth Pigg, Miss Janie Ray, Miss Lola East, Miss Rowena Green, Miss Margaret Green, Ruth Williams, Barbara Mitchell, Helen Wright, Alice Grey Beach, Lulu Green and Grace Beach.

remunerative of any industry now being developed in this community. Much interest is evinced by the members of the club in the work and before long it is hoped there will be enough pigeons raised here to supply the demands of a constantly enlarging patronage.

Home Croft Meeting

The program Friday evening opened with a selection from James Whitcomb Riley, "We Must Get Home," by Mr. Ashby. Mr. Maxwell began his lecture by saying: We must learn to entertain ourselves. In the cities, life is bought for a nickel. Picture shows degrade and deteriorate the individual because the people make no effort themselves but they must be entertained. And many times what they see is not elevating. Cheap entertainment neither trains nor educates a man. People living in the factory town in the far east are crowded and huddled together and conditions are such that they become inferior. No wonder they drink. Their minds atrophy, they deteriorate in every way. There seems to be a great movement taking form all over the country of the people turning back to the soil, making their own gardens, raising the produce for their own tables. Our own University of Southern California provides courses in agriculture and horticulture free to anyone. True life is what we should strive for. And what makes life valuable? Food, shelter, raiment for the physical foundation. Entertainment and study to rouse the higher thought. Music is one of the greatest agents for the development of the higher life. The Mormon choir, one of the most magnificent in the world, is one of the means used in Utah for the development of the community life. Man shall not live by bread alone. There must be a higher inspiration, a spiritual energizer that makes man do the noble thing. There are no high ideals in life that the people in Littlelands may not come in contact with. At present the people of the United States are facing the problems of humanity. A crisis fronts us. Trade competition may lead to war. It was the cause of the present war in Europe. We are in the track that led the nations of Europe to war. What shall we do? It is to be hoped that the preparation now being advocated may lead to the realization that men who have to prepare for war must be so educated and trained that they will be independent after they leave the army.

The power of the Germans in the present war is inherent. They have trained their people for generations to be strong. Life, health, strength of every citizen is the highest duty of the government. Australia for her protection has adopted the Swiss military system, that she may keep Australia white man's country free from the Asiatics. The same conditions that existed between England and Germany exist today between the United States and Japan. The same cause of friction—controversy over markets, and extension of territory for expansion of population. Japan is rimming the American continent and will overrun this coast unless we meet their efficiency with equal or greater efficiency. The Home Croft movement may be one of the agencies to this end. A movement towards a system that places within the reach of every man the means to make a living with his hands, to earn every thing he gets for a week, for a year. The Chamber of Commerce in Los Angeles is planning to extend this movement, to help train a race of men in acre-culture.

GREAT PREHISTORIC LAKE

The large prehistoric lake which flooded a number of the valleys of northwestern Nevada at a very recent geologic date but has now passed away was named lake Lahontan, in honor of Baron La Hontan, one of the early explorers of the headwaters of the Mississippi. The lake covered approximately 8,400 square miles at its greatest expansion, and in its deepest part, the present site of Pyramid lake, it was at least 880 feet deep—that is, its surface stood approximately 500 feet above the present water surface of Pyramid lake. The ancient lake had no outlet except the one that led straight up, its waters being dissipated entirely by evaporation.

A large area a few miles north of Winnemucca is covered with sand dunes formed since the disappearance of lake Lahontan. The dunes are fully 75 feet thick, and their steeper slopes are on the east side, thus indicating that the whole vast field of sand is slowly traveling eastward. This progress has necessitated a number of changes in the roads in the southern part of Little Humboldt Valley during recent years. In some places in this region the telegraph poles have been buried so deeply that they have had to be spliced in order to keep the wires above the crests of the dunes. The sand is of a light creamy-yellow color and forms beautifully curved ridges and waves that are covered with a fretwork of wind ripples, and many of these ridges are marked in the most curious manner by the footprints of animals, which form strange hieroglyphics that are some-times difficult to translate. RELIEF MASS MEETING

War is defeat, of victors as of victims. Both of the living and the dead of nations. That argue in the roar and smoke of cannon. And settle their disputes with lead and iron. War is a jeering at the finest fruit. That ripens on the thorny stem of Time. A jeer and sneer at human federation. War ne'er respects the feebleness of age. Nor yet the helplessness of infancy. Nor e'en the sacredness of chastity. But ruthlessly and iron shod it walks Over the forms of weaklings as of giants. War misconstrues and calls the vices virtues. Mistakes brutality for bravery. And crime for courage, cruelty for culture. And deeds of devilishness for deeds of duty. Arson, assassination for ambition. Pillage and piracy for patriotism. Ruin and rapine, rape for righteousness. Horror for honor, hell for heroism. War has enraged the world with jealousy. Has damned the world with hate and filled with fear, Engloomed the world with sighs and groans and moans; Has stained the earth with blood and drenched with tears, Shattered the lives of millions of strong men. And filled the world with cripples, widows, orphans. With broken homes and broken hearts and hopes. War puts the butcher 'bove the benefactor. The slaying soldier 'bove the sage and scholar. The slaughterer 'above the scientist. Assassins 'bove the artisan and artist. Murderers 'bove manufacturers and merchants. War gives to evening skies a lurid glow. From all the burning homes that it has ravished; It mars the peaceful scenes of rural beauty. Where God's own creatures dwell in amity. And changes them into a raging hell. War scorns the God of Love and righteousness. And worships at the shrines of Mars and Moloch; It spurns religion, spits on codes of morals. Adopts the ethics of the shark and tiger. War smites the gentle, tramples on the tender. Crushes the hearts of sister and of brother. Beneath the ruthless heel of hate and brute-force. War, in its grim and ghastly course, has slashed A wide highway of ruin through the ages. A highway strewn with wreckage, moist with blood. Reddened with fire, and lined with graves and prisons. With crosses, corpses, skulls and skeletons; And evermore this monstrous beast of prey Spreads wide its fierce and stained blood-dripping jaws. In hungry howls for more, more, more, more victims.

After telling something of the horrors that the poor Jews had endured throughout the long months of the war and of how they suffered at the hands of the armies that occupied their countries he made a stirring appeal to the audience on their behalf and finished with another of his poems entitled, "Give Us Bread."

Prof. Lowinsky, accompanied by Mrs. Lowinsky, played Max Bruch's famous violin solo, "Kol Nidrei," which expresses the wail of the Jewish heart in the season preceding the Day of Atonement, with great depth of sympathy and purity of tone. Mrs. William Herman West sang at different times two songs, Van de Water's "The Good Shepherd" and "Cast Thy Burden Upon the Lord," with much taste and religious fervor. The whole musical program was arranged by Prof. Lowinsky with much care and painstaking was a great treat and was much appreciated by the audience.

The Hon. Joseph Scott of Los Angeles, after speaking feelingly and appreciatively of the sufferings of the Jews and telling how the heart of the American people had gone out to them in sympathy, took up the work of raising funds from the audience, which he did in his inimitable style and with a rich and racy humor that put the audience in an excellent humor and induced them to open their purse strings and contribute liberally. In fact, so effective was Mr. Scott's appeal that those present contributed the sum of about $200. This excellent result is highly creditable to Glendale. It has been calculated that if Glendale should give in proportion to what Los Angeles had contributed it would have given $80.

The committee on arrangements is now looking forward to Tag Day, Thursday, Feb. 17, to swell the amount contributed by Glendale to this most worthy cause. Arrangements have been almost perfected for that day and every individual, store and house in the city will be tagged.

Two new machines have been added to the Trusty Auto Service, a new Ford being purchased by Mr. Trusty and a new Maxwell by Mr. Hoit.

The Ideal Home

Every man has his ideal of what he would like to have in his home—the sort of home that he can build for the money that he has to spend. You have your ideal even if you cannot draw it out on paper.

To assist Home Builders and place the latest ideas within reach of everyone, our Lumbermen's Association through its regular department has prepared and published at an expense of some twelve thousand dollars a most beautiful and complete Plan Book of Modern Homes—Step-savers they are termed, cozy, convenient and economical.

We court an opportunity to show you and to tell you about this service, whether you expect to build now or later.
